Overview

Tony has a busy practice specialising in the fields of insolvency, company law, civil fraud, commercial litigation and arbitration. His work has a strong international element, and he has substantial experience of cross-border issues arising in connection with complex commercial disputes, foreign insolvencies, receiverships and contempt proceedings.

Tony has significant experience of obtaining urgent injunctive relief, including freezing and proprietary injunctions, receivership applications and the appointment of provisional liquidators, both domestically and offshore.

Tony took silk in 2022, having been recognised as a leading junior in his areas of specialism for a number of years. He is directory ranked for Insolvency, Offshore, Civil Fraud, Banking and Finance, Company, Chancery Commercial, and Commercial Dispute Resolution. Prior to taking silk, Tony was identified as (one of two) “most highly regarded” junior barristers for Restructuring and Insolvency in successive editions of Who’s Who Legal and was short-listed for Insolvency/Company Junior Barrister of the Year at the Chambers UK Bar Awards 2017.

Recent directory quotes describe Tony as a “real star to watch”, and a “very clear, calm and careful advocate” who “marries a lot of brainpower into practicality and focus”.

Tony is admitted to the Bar of the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court, British Virgin Islands, and frequently appears before the Courts of the Cayman Islands and the Turks and Caicos Islands. His practice also includes work before the DIFC Courts and the Abu
